FOREWORD

It is with honor and pleasure that we, the Bull Staff of 1964, present to you in color and in black and white the 1964-65 Bull.

It is through this medium that we reveal to you the places, the people, and the exciting and impressive events which have made our stay at Johnson C. Smith University a memorable one.

Through sacrifices and sincere efforts to achieve perfection in our selected vocations, we may help to solve some of the problems of the world today and tomorrow.

This we feel is the best Bull ever to be published. As you turn the leaves of this annual, may you enjoy and share our opinion.

DEDICATION

Dean J. A. Grimes

With contriteness of spirit, devotedness of heart and respectful humility we make this dedication.

Dean Joseph A. Grimes who keeps alive the chivalric code, is a symbol of the Old Order: Loyal, Sincere, Dedicated, Courageous and with a Nobility of Spirit that defies Time. Let no unkind fate dim these qualities which lit a torch for so many in the past, illumines present paths and lights up new vistas for the Future.

Present

Dr. Rufus P. Perry

Through his dynamic and energetic efforts, our school's progress has been ameliorated tremendously. He has never shown a moment of fear or unconcern for its future.

Thus, to one whose leadership has set Johnson C. Smith University among the respected, and has established a reputation for himself as being efficient in every task he undertakes, whether as president, educator, teacher, or gentleman, we dedicate this, the 1965 Bull.

DEDICATION

Mr. H. B. Blue

Honor was never bestowed upon any man for receiving but is awarded to him for giving.

Each of us has felt the warm glow of friendliness exuberated by him and has greatly appreciated this spark of humaneness in a world of ever increasing competition.

Because he has given us so much, we, the members of the Senior Class, dedicate the 1964-65 Bull to Mr. Henry B. Blue.

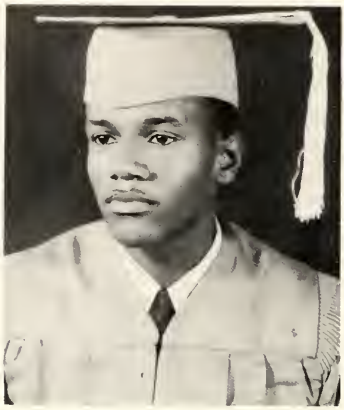
We dedicate this page in memory of one who began this journey with us but, because of our Lord's will that he return to Him the giver of life, was unable to complete it.



Tommie Lewis Reed, Jr.

On our talent show he kept us all in wonder with his recitation of "Go Down Death." Here in part is that poem.

"Weep not, weep not,
She is not dead;
She's resting in the bosom of Jesus.

"Day before yesterday morning,
God was looking down from his great, high heaven,
Looking down on all his children,
And his eyes fell on Sister Caroline,
Tossing on her bed of pain.
And God's big heart was touched with pity,
With the everlasting pity.

"And God said: 'Go down, Death, to down,
Go down to Savannah, Georgia,
Down in Yamacraw,
And find Sister Caroline.
She's borne the burden and heat of the day,
She's labored long in my vineyard,
And she's tired—
She's weary—
Go down, Death, and bring her to me.'

"And Jesus took his own hand and wiped away her tears,
And he smoothed the furrows from her face,
And the angels sang a little song,
And Jesus rocked her in his arms,
And kept a-saying:
'Take your rest,
Take your rest, take your rest.'

"Weep not—weep not,
She is not dead;
She's resting in the bosom of Jesus."

Homecoming is celebrated at Johnson C. Smith in the fullest extent of the word. This is the time of year when many alumni return to the dear alma mater for gala festivities. These activities, in a sense, culminate the anticipation of the student body, alumni and friends for the greatest event of the fall semester.

For almost an entire week there is fun and excitement for everyone. The coronation of the queen in all her regal splendor, musical concerts, the colorful parade, the excitement of the football game, and the Homecoming Dance are all part of the fun and frolic afforded by the festivities.

In spite of appearances, Homecoming is not devoted exclusively to levity. There are serious moments as well. The gaiety of the festivities is climaxed when the entire body of instructors, students, alumni and friends congregate in the University Church to give thanks to God.

Relive with us in the next few pages, scenes of pleasant memories of a most unforgettable experience. . .

The basic objectives of the curricula and activities of the University are formed from broad general education for LIFE and thorough specialization for SERVICE, undergirded by CHRISTIAN VALUES.

Realization of these objectives is achieved to a great extent through various club exercises, debates, contests and dramas. These are essential because of their instrumentality in helping the student to develop diversified leadership potentialities academically, socially, and religiously.

CHARLES H. CLAY WHITE, III

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT

As I write this message I can't help but think of the responsibility that is placed before college students today. The time today demands more knowledge in a well-rounded scope. This era demands the highest calibre of people with high ideals, goals, and hopeful achievements. If one is to be a useful citizen today he must be prepared in the stated areas. This I feel is the true worth of a college student.

To the graduate, I truly hope you have accomplished some of these qualities, if not all. The world owes nor gives you anything, but you utilize your abilities to the highest in this new age, for there is much competition in the Market Place.

To the undergraduate, strive on to the highest heights, for what is expected of the graduate today will not be expected of you. You see, times and demands change so constantly that you will be expected to achieve greater heights than the student before this.

I wish each of you the greatest of success and abundance of life's joy.

C. H. C. White III

CHARLES H. CLAY WHITE, III

The Student Government incorporates the educational, social, and moral values of students and thus participates in the direction and coordination of student organizations and activities. It participates in the discipline of students and cooperates fully with the administration and faculty in upholding the high standards of citizenship and scholarship by the University.

ROSE MARY GAINES

Since her matriculation at the University, Rose Mary Gaines has exemplified a sense of sincere loyalty and love for our dear Alma Mater. This accounts for her effort to instill true school spirit in the heart of every member of the student body.

Evidence of this is her diligent work with the cheering squad. She has been a member of the squad since her freshman year. During her sophomore year she was chosen for the position of captain which she still maintains.

Aside from the cheering squad, she has participated in various other activities. Miss Gaines was voted as corresponding secretary of the Student Christian Association, and is presently serving as Vice-President, and as President of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. During the year 1964 she was a member of the Freshman Reception Committee and participated in the exchange program with the University of Dubuque (Iowa).

The same diligence which Rose Mary has shown in extra-curricular activities is exemplified in her class work as well. Since the time of her entrance at this institution she has maintained a scholastic average of of B.

Because of her outstanding achievements members of the Bull Staff feel that this is but a small part of the recognition that is deserved by a person as dedicated as Miss Rose Mary Gaines.

THEOADUS LAFAYETTE GUNN

Mr. T. L. Gunn, our librarian, is also an alumnus of Smith. He earned his A.B. degree from the University in 1927. He also attended the School of Library Science, Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia, where he earned his B.S. degree in Library Science, 1930. Since 1930 he has served as head librarian here at Smith. Mr. Gunn has also done summer study at Columbia University, New York, New York.

Mr. Gunn is a very active person, for he is affiliated with many organizations. Among these are the American Library Association and North Carolina Library Association. He is also a member and vice-president of the Board of Directors of Mecklenburg Investment Corporation, and a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. Mr. Gunn is listed in NORTH CAROLINA LIVES and was a Tar Heel WHO'S WHO for 1962.

For recreation, Mr. Gunn enjoys music and the theatre.

CHARLES CLAY WHITE, II

This young man whom you see scurrying around campus, usually appropriately clad, with brief case in hand, is non other than Charles Henry Clay White, II.

This young man is a person who looks constantly for ideas of change which enhance the particular surroundings and environment. This attitude has been portrayed in the many organizations in which he serves. Clay portrays a young man with something to offer in the following organizations: President of both the Student Government and Alpha Omicron Chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity; member of the Young Democrats Club, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, National Student Council Associations through out the country; he is also active in various community affairs and his hometown church, Ebenezer United Presbyterian Church.

To give an additional sketch of the young man, it should be pointed out that he is not superhuman and enjoys a quiet family life, consisting of one brother and three sisters. An apt student majoring in political science, he finds adequate time for jazz listening, extensive dormitory bull-sessions, dancing, and just plain old "cupping" as he often terms it. And to taper off these fine activities he is considered an accomplished trumpeter and pianist.

Because of his effrots for the betterment of J.C.S.U., the Bull Staff hails the chief!

WILLIE TROY SINGLETARY

Singletary is one of the best liked and most cooperative students on campus. This year, while serving as Vice-President of the Student Government, he has worked hard on all of the organizational projects.

Troy is known as the "Campus Crier" because of his willingness to make announcements in the Dining Hall and in chapel. He has proved to be a valuable worker in all areas of campus life. His extracurricular activities include: membership in the Psychology Club, The Ira Aldridge Dramatics Guild, and the Freshman Reception Committee.

He is a junior from Lumberton, North Carolina, and a student of whom we can all be justly proud. Especially noteworthy is his willingness to work for an idea that the majority favors, even though he does not always favor it. His senior year should prove him to be one of the hardest working and most dynamic students in the University.

The Bulls won twelve and lost four CIAA games last winter. In the annual CIAA tournament the Bulls finished second.

Track

Coach Kenny Powell's cindermen jumped higher, ran faster, and threw further to climax a succesful 1964 season in the C.I.A.A. conference. Placing fourth, opposed to sixth in 1963, and eight in 1962, it is evident that there has been vast progressive change. Pole vaulter Kenneth Whitted captured a gold medal and the C.I.A.A. title with a vault of 15'.2".

And smiles it should be! Pictured with gold plaques which represent first places in the sprint medley and mile relays won at the Quantico Relays are: Richard Pullen, Douglas Cross, Coach Kenneth Powell, Anthony Moore and Israel Lee.

FRESHMAN TRACK TEAM

The future potentials of Smith cindermen rest on these newest members of the team. For the next three years, they will be expected to imprint the name of J. C. Smith in the track world.

Some bring home the bacon, we bring home the gold and silver (medals, that is.) This is another reason why the U.S. reserve is deficient.

As you leafed through this publication of the 1964-65 BULL, we hope that it has been entertaining and has familiarized you with the life and functions of Johnson C. Smith University and those who comprise this great institution.

Ardently and patiently, through combined efforts, we have endeavored to present to you a composite view of our college life, much of which includes pleasant memories which we can never relive. It is our desire that through the BULL some of these cherished memories can be recaptured long after we have departed from our dear alma mater.

In spite of the diligence of the staff, our goal could not have been achieved without the assistance of others. For this reason we acknowledge Smith personnel from the Maintenance Department to the President. We owe special recognition to personnel from the Office of Public Relations for pictures, Mr. Counts of Inventory and Supply for the use of his phone, and Business Office and Registrar's Office for supplies and information pertaining to students.

To all these we express sincere gratitude in helping us complete what we hope you consider "a job well done."
